

Mywindparts and SIMATEC

A new meeting that resulted in a strong collaboration to offer you the best lubrication solutions for your wind turbines

For almost 40 years, this Swiss company, with an international presence, develop lubrication solutions and tools to improve the durability of the major components of wind turbines.

In order to meet the different needs of these customers, Simatec has designed an automatic lubricator: Simalube. It is available in 5 different sizes and can be attached to various places in the wind turbine with the help of the accessories provided, thus automatically distributing the necessary grease over a period of up to one year.

The Simalube product can be adapted on :

- Blade steering system
- Generator
- Nacelle steering system
- Gearbox
- Main bearings
